I turn lived problems into useful, testable products.

01 / PROFILE

Product builder and founder with a background in international business, operations and hands-on delivery. I begin with lived problems, especially everyday challenges in Ghana and across Africa, then learn what the solution requires. I use research, product thinking, clear documentation and carefully supervised AI tools to move ideas into visible, testable products. I work independently when useful and seek experienced collaborators when stronger craft or judgement is needed.

02 / WHAT I BRING

01 PROBLEM FRAMING

Turn lived frustrations and operational gaps into clear product questions and priorities.

02 PRODUCT THINKING

Shape workflows, interfaces, documentation and testable next steps around real user needs.

03 AI-ASSISTED BUILDING

Use AI to research, learn and prototype while keeping decisions and quality under human review.

04 OPERATIONS

Bring practical experience with inventory, logistics, service, schedules, budgets and team communication.

03 / SELECTED FOUNDER WORK

GROOMDOCS LIVE

Free, privacy-first browser PDF tools built after repeated frustration with paywalls; files remain on the device.

GROOMLINQ IN DEVELOPMENT

Ghana-first marketplace exploring seven different transaction models and purchase-verified discovery.

GHANAONE CONCEPT

Independent specification and interface direction for a clearer digital front door to public services; no government involvement is claimed.

GROOMCV PROTOTYPE

Career workspace concept organised around role fit, evidence and visible skill gaps.

04 / TOOLS AND WORKING METHODS

Roles I am growing into. Product, product-operations and AI-assisted delivery roles where practical judgement, learning speed and collaboration matter.

Problem framing, user journeys, interface decisions, product specifications, documentation, prototypes, ChatGPT, Claude, Cursor and Gemini.
